VOLUNTEER STATE BANK OPENS GOODLETTSVILLE BRANCH

GOODLETTSVILLE, Tenn. March 4, 2008 – Volunteer State Bank, the largest community bank in Sumner County in terms of market share, has opened its eighth branch. Located at 405 Long Hollow Pike in Goodlettsville, bank officials consider it a prime location due to the proximity to both retail and residential centers within a rapidly developing area of Goodlettsville.

“Goodlettsville is a great community and we’ve been looking forward to opening this branch so we are better able to serve our customers who live here,” said bank President Matt Ricker. “The people here like the small-town feel, but also appreciate having access to everything Nashville has to offer. Volunteer State Bank is the same way. We’re a locally owned community bank that combines personal service with professional bankers and sophisticated products.”

You can contact the Goodlettsville branch of Volunteer State Bank by calling (615) 855-6676.

The architectural firm of Lyle Cook Martin designed the new branch, which was built by McPherson-Shaw, Inc. The design closely matches branches in Hendersonville and White House as well as the main branch in Portland.

Chartered in 1977 in Portland, Volunteer State Bank is a fast growing community bank in Middle Tennessee with assets of over $262 million and offices in Sumner and Robertson County. The bank has eight locations in Portland, Gallatin, Goodlettsville, Hendersonville, Orlinda, Springfield and White House. Volunteer State continues to expand its products through its subsidiaries, Guaranty Trust Company and Middle Tennessee Insurance Agency.
